

United States Army Physical Disability Agency (USAPDA)

Table of Contents

Summary

Links

Summary

The mission of the U.S. Army Physical Disability Agency is to determine a Soldier's fitness for continued military service. The purpose of this site is to connect Soldiers with all necessary and relevant information surrounding physical disabilities, health-care, and appropriate compensation.

Back to top

Links

- U.S. Army Physical Disability Agency
Link to all physical disability information.
- Army Physical Disability Evaluation System \(APDES\)
Link to an information guide about the Army Physical Disability Evaluation System (APDES).
- Army Physical Disability Evaluation System \(PDES\)
Frequently Asked Questions about the Army Physical Disability Evaluation System (PDES).
- Patient Administrative Branch
Connects to information and links on PDES, the Medical Evaluation Board (MEB), the Physical Evaluation Board (PEB), and the Physical Performance Evaluation System (PPES).
- My Army Benefits Wounded Warriors
Provides links to the Disability Income Calculator, Sustaining Income Calculator, My MEB/PEB, and Fact Sheets.
- Army Medical Department
Provides information about the U.S. Army Medical Department.

Back to top